

Touch

Touch is a concept album and live performance project by composer and songwriter Peter Dulborough. Following the release of two albums and three EPs since 2022, Peter presents a piano-led concert experience combining storytelling, expressive arrangements and contemporary songwriting.

Through a blend of jazz, classical influences and intimate songwriting, the project creates a deeply personal yet universal musical journey.

Background & Development

The songs of Touch were developed over many years and were reimagined through a creative collaboration with musician and producer Mat Grey at Mad Jaguars Studio in Florence, Italy.

Released in 2025, the eight-track album draws inspiration from people, places and artistic influences that have shaped Peter Dulborough's life — transforming personal memories and experiences into a collection of emotional portraits.
